

Transportation Energy Institute

WHO WE ARE

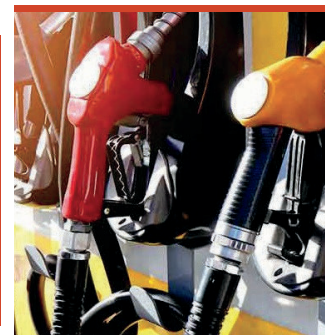

The Transportation Energy Institute is the only nonprofit, non-advocacy think tank dedicated to transportation energy, delivering objective, data-driven insights to help business and policy leaders make higher quality decisions in a rapidly evolving transportation energy ecosystem.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- Non-Advocacy - We do not advocate for or against any policy or market option.
- Inclusive collaboration - We facilitate collaboration among stakeholders of diverse perspectives to strengthen the value and relevance of our research and insights.
- Objective Analysis - We rely on data, fact-based evidence, and rigorous peer review to deliver balanced analysis.

WHY IT MATTERS

We ensure the transportation energy market is guided by credible data— not agendas. By bringing together diverse voices, we address challenges and uncover opportunities that lead to better solutions for consumers.

Objective Research.

Informed Decisions.

LEADERSHIP TEAM

John Eichberger
Executive Director
jeichberger@transportationenergy.org
703-518-7971

Marjorie Frankel
Director, Marketing and Communications
mfrankel@transportationenergy.org
703-518-7973

Liz Menz
Director, Research & Engagement
lmenz@transportationenergy.org
703-518-7974

OUR COVERAGE

- Petroleum and biofuels supply and economics
- Electric vehicles and infrastructure
- Consumer behavior, perspectives and impacts
- Emissions and the environment
- Medium and heavy-duty vehicles
- Advanced mobility technologies

Visit us at www.transportationenergy.org or scan:

